FREDERIC RESIDENT PASSED AWAY.

Albert J. Kohn who passed away at Mercy Hospital Friday was born in the state of Ohio on May 12, 1860.

He came to Michigan at the age of 30 years and located near Omer. In 1888 he was married to Miss Sarah Shaw. To this union was born five children 3 boys and two girls, Theron, Loyas, Clara, Burton and Belle.

His wife preceded him in death nearly two years ago, having passed away April 30, 1923.

He leaves to mourn him, besides the 5 children, one brother, two sisters and many friends. The funeral was held at the M. P. Church in Frederic Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. F. E. Hart officiating. Interment at Elmwood Cemetery.

KINNEE-CHAPPEL.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Chappel was the scene of a quiet wedding ceremony last Saturday evening, when their youngest daughter Miss Ethel became the bride of Mr. Chas. Kinnee of Gaylord. Rev. Maxwell officiated at the ceremony, which took place promptly at 8:30 o'clock, following which a delicious supper was served to those present. A vase holding pink and white carnations centered the table.

The groom is the manager of the Grayling Auto Sales Company coming from Gaylord last fall to open up here. Since coming here he has made many friends both among the business men and others. Mrs. Kinnee, who has spent most of her life in Grayling and is well and favorably known has many friends who join in wishing them many years of happy wedded life.

On pages two and three appears the list of lands delinquent for taxes of 1923 and previous years.

ELECTRIC FRANCHISE WINS HEAVILY MANY ENJOY SCHOOL OPERETTA

GRAYLING ASSURED OF HIGH CLASS ELECTRIC SERVICE.

The special Village election held last Monday to authorize the Village Council to issue a franchise to the Grayling Electric Co., to use the streets for the distribution of their electric service was carried by a vote of 195 in favor and 30 against.

Prior to the election there seemed to be considerable opposition to the proposition which appears was due largely to the lack of understanding of the matter. Some believed that the grant proposed was for too long a time, and others felt that the rates for service should be incorporated in the question on the ballots. These two questions were, we believe, quite clearly defined in the last issue of the Avalanche which seemed to clear up the matter quite conclusively. Mr. E. Wright's letter written in behalf of the Michigan Public Service Co., guaranteed against any change in rates unless such change was authorized by the Michigan Public Utilities commission, as published in the Avalanche last week, did much toward satisfying the public regarding the rates, as well as to an assurance of adequate service, such as is much needed here.

While the Grayling Electric Co. claim they held a franchise granted by Grayling Township, the intending purchasers were not satisfied with it and demanded a new franchise. Unless the franchise was passed there was no hope of the local Company being able to sell, and would probably have resulted in a continued unsatisfactory service. However now that the franchise is granted no doubt the sale will be duly consummated and high class service granted just as soon as the added production can be provided for.

This will mean that in that respect Grayling will go forward in the program of progression.

NOTICE.

On April 30, 1925, the Federal Government Land Office, at Marquette, Michigan, will be discontinued, and after that date all business relating to public lands in this State, formerly handled through the Marquette office, will be transacted through the office of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, Washington, D. DUTY FIRST—POLITICS LATER.

Lansing, March 19—Thomas E.

Johnson, Superintendent of Public Instruction and candidate for reelection on April 6th next, has the confidence of the school people of Michigan. The reason for this confidence is not hard to find. When first appointed and then elected to office most of the school men of the state undoubtedly felt that he was first a politician and second a school man, but his record in office has been such that they feel today that he is first a school man and second a politician. Whatever success he may have had as a politician is undoubtedly due to the fact that he genuinely likes people and that liking begets a liking in return. In fact his definition of politics probably covers a situation. To him the art of politics is merely the art of making friends and keeping them.

There is no question but that for the cause of education he works both in season and out of season. While it is not common thing to do, nevertheless the various organizations of educators in the state have readily endorsed him not only for his work but also for continuance in office.

One point which is often overlooked is that Mr. Johnson is constantly endeavoring to see that the people of Michigan get their money's worth in the dollars they spend for education. The law requires the Superintendent of Public Instruction to approve plans and specifications for buildings, but it is rare indeed that necessary expense is not cut out of buildings while they are being passed on by the department. Constantly Mr. Johnson and his associates are endeavoring to reduce expenditures particularly in the smaller high schools and the consolidated schools. His motto has always been, that the people are entitled to everything possible for each tax dollar raised and expended. Most of the criticisms which have raised against him and his work have come from those who were anxious to keep the burden from being placed on those who could really afford to carry it, all of which certainly entitles him to the support of those who are interested in the welfare of their children and at the same time believe that the progress that takes place should not be at the expense of a rash wastefulness.

It is easy to criticize and we Americans are prone to criticize our public officials. Certainly, however, many of the criticisms hurled at Mr. Johnson are of a nature and from sources which should not in any way militate against his support at the polls.

ELECTION APRIL 6, 1925.

I take this means of presenting my candidacy to you for the purpose of offering my assurances of a careful and efficient effort in handling this office, if elected, and I trust I may be favorably accepted and considered.

The fire department has been called out three times this week to help put out bon-fires that have gotten beyond control. People building fires these days should keep close watch on them. Also starting fires in the woods during this dry spell is bad practice, and caution should be taken when leaving a fire to see that it is entirely out before leaving.

Although it was a late hour before the performance began most of West Branch people in attendance remained in their seats and waited patiently.

The men folks of the troupe left early in the day and although they had ill luck on the road got into West Branch at 7:00. West Branch people seemed to enjoy the play very much, after their long wait.

WHAT STATE LAW MAKERS ARE DOING

No Voting Reform Is Likely At This Session Of The Legislature

Lansing, Mich. Governor Alex J. Groesbeck's opposition to any type of primary election reform, to party enrollment and to the pre-primary convention has made itself known. The hopeless election law tangle, which has only increased since the beginning of the session, reached a point where it is about certain no reforming legislation will be passed.

The senate passed the Wood election law bill on third reading. The bill passed, however, is not the Wood bill which was introduced, but a mere codification of the existing law. Still bearing Wood's name, but with all its party enrollment and election of delegates "teeth" neatly drawn, the bill was brought out of the committee, passed on general orders, put on its immediate passage under suspension of the rules and shot through the senate.

Rapid transit legislation for Detroit has been sidetracked in the house of representatives. It was Governor Alex J. Groesbeck who pulled the switch turning the Detroit commission's enabling bill off the legislative right of way and back into committee.

The transit commission's bill was one of the first to be introduced at this session of the legislature. Twice it has been sent back to committee and amended to conform to ideas of manufacturers and business interests of Detroit. It was apparently acceptable to everybody interested, but the governor decided it was unconstitutional. He declared that if it came to him in its present form he would veto it. Its present form is fundamentally the same as the enabling act of 1923, which he signed.

The house of representatives has expressed a desire to honor Edgar A. Guest, whose verse has won him national renown.

The Howell bill providing for the appointment of a poet laureate for Michigan by the governor was passed by a vote of 87 to 5.

Representative Chester M. Howell, of Saginaw, the introducer, explained that the bill was sponsored by Michigan Kiwanians who are ready to petition the governor for the appointment of Guest in event the bill also passes the senate and is signed by the governor as is expected.

The position is purely honorary. It carries with it no salary. According to Howell, it is just intended to reward Guest for the cheer that his rhyme has brought to many hearts.

The University of Michigan appropriation bill, calling for an expenditure of $3,192,700, was reported out of the House University committee without amendment. But, it is reported authoritatively, the Governor and House leaders have agreed to grant the university nothing in the way of funds for new buildings except $900,000 for the proposed museum.

After heated debate in which motives of sponsors and critics of the bill were attacked and the state department of health flayed as untrustworthy, the house of representatives voted to shunt the Smedley anti-stream pollution bill off the calendar and back into committee. Many members believe that by so doing they succeeded in killing the bill.

The members of the House who want the richer counties of the state to contribute toward the upkeep of schools in the needy counties, fought off two amendments to the Bohn Primary School Fund Bill, and sent it sailing on its way to a third reading. Wayne county will lose $300,000 of its annual school funds if the bill becomes a law.

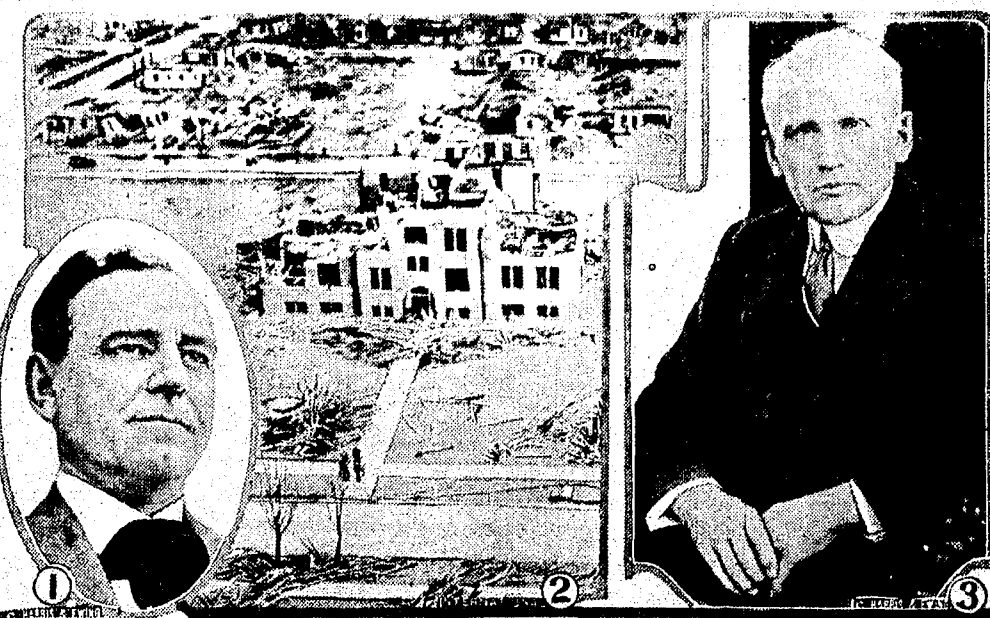

One of the bills passed by the House of Representatives would appropriate $69,000 for the State Sanitarium at Howell. Originally this bill called for an appropriation of $770,000, but the members of the Ways and Means Committee, with their eyes on the $145,000 mark set by Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck, had used their sharp axe.

The Bryant Bill, proposing the establishment of a fifth State normal college in the northern part of the state, was sent back to the committee by the House. It had been reported out by the Ways and Means Committee with a minor error in the phraseology, and was sent back for correction.

Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck has denied a request of the governor of Indiana for the extradition of Albert O. Rogers of Iowa, on a warrant for passing worthless checks.

The Pearson Bill, to relieve lands held for reforestation from the burden of excessive taxes, passed the Senate, having encountered no serious obstacles since it was introduced. It has gone to the House. Enactment of this bill into law would make possible the reforestation of more than one-third of the State's total area of 26,000,000 acres. It is estimated by officials of the bureau of agricultural industry, State Department of Agriculture, who have just compiled results of a survey of 16 counties.

The Leland Potato Grading Bill, written to meet the objections of its assailants, was passed by the senate. It must still run the gauntlet of the House. The bill provides for three grades: "U. S. No. 1," "U. S. No. 2 small," and "U. S. No. 2." All others would be classed as culls. These grades are now being enforced by the State Department of Agriculture through the blanket authority it possesses, but the bill would strengthen the department's hand in court proceedings.

Kellogg, new secretary of state, instructed by President Coolidge to prepare way for second arms conference in Washington.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Tornado Situation Well in Hand—Second Arms Conference Likely.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

THE aftermath of the five-state tornado of last week is an object lesson of the irresistible forces of nature before which even modern science is abashed; of the instinctive response to appeal from the afflicted that marks man as "little lower than the angels," and of the remedial resources of our Twentieth century civilization.

Returns to date include these figures: $30 dead and 2,039 injured, with additional deaths daily and new cases of injury. Some bodies were presumably incinerated. There is still a list of missing. In 16 Illinois communities there are 655 dead and 2,110 injured. In Murphysboro, the largest city in the devastated area, the toll was 202 dead; 700 injured; 152 city blocks practically swept clean; property loss, $4,000,000.

Radio told the catastrophe. Instantly all roads led to the devastated areas. Heroin in "Bloody Williamson" faced with the best—lost its new $15,000 fire engine. High priced surgeons from Chicago's "Gold Coast" operated by lantern-light. The rush of man-help, material necessities, and cash-in-hand never slackened.

No close estimate can be made of the money raised and still being raised. Illinois finished the legislative process of appropriating $500,000 Wednesday. Chicago Wednesday filled its official quota of $500,000 and may run on to $750,000. Scores of organizations working independently have added many hundreds of thousands and the end is not yet. All will be needed.

The emergency period is over. The dead have been buried. The care of the injured and sick has been organized and systematized. Rebuilding is fast solving the problem of the homeless. Soon the long, slow work of rehabilitation will be under way. This will be concentrated in the American Red Cross, which makes it a continuing process—it is still caring for victims of the Lorraine tornado and the Pueblo flood.

THE lesson of the tornado would seem to be that science, instead of telling us how it will annihilate whole peoples in the next World war, might well turn its attention to these twisters, scarcely less deadly than battles. Meteorology can explain tornadoes mathematically. Why then can it not forecast them? The weather bureau says it can never be done. It also says nothing can be done to counteract the whirls.

"Never" and "Nothing" are words which do not seem to obtain in these latter days of science. If man can annihilate time and space and a tornado takes more than four hours to run its course, cannot science at least do something to rob this visitation of "unnatural nature" of its terrors? Must man go back to his "cyclone cellar"? If so, he would better begin digging. This last loss is too great—whether reckoned in human lives, time or hard cash.

A SECOND arms limitation conference is likely to be held this summer in Washington upon the invitation of President Coolidge. This is made probable by the rejection at Geneva of the League of Nations protocol providing for compulsory arbitration of all international disputes. There can now be no cry raised of a "rival gathering." So the president has set to work the new secretary of state, Frank B. Kellogg, on the task of sounding out the nations that took part in the first conference.

The second conference will presumably start where the first left off. The first limited competition in the construction of capital ships. But there is wholesale building of cruisers, submarines, destroyers and airplanes. The limitation of the construction of these auxiliary types would therefore presumably be the business before the next conference.

It is stated that the British, Japanese and Italian governments are likely to participate. France may be unwilling, pending a solution of her security problem—which would appear to be a problem for Europe to solve.

BEFORE the United States Supreme court April 13 will come up a case in which all official Washington is intensely interested, for the reason that it is expected to settle the much-voiced question of the right of President Coolidge to remove from office that stormy petrel, John R. McCarl, comptroller general of the United States. Since 1921 McCarl has been at every executive department of the federal government. And, what's more, he asserts complete independence of presidential control. President Wilson vetoed the national budget act in 1920 because it made the comptroller general removable only by concurrent resolution of both houses of congress. President Harding in 1921 signed the new budget act, under which a comptroller general is appointed for 15 years, leaving him removable by congress but not by the President.

The case in issue is that of Frank Scott Myers, former postmaster of Portland, Ore., who was removed by President Wilson in 1920, in alleged violation of an act of congress. If the Supreme court decides that the Executive was within his authority in cancelling the Myers appointment, constitutional lawyers hold that Comptroller General McCarl's contention of presidential control will collapse.

The President, who is the real defendant, will be represented by Solicitor General James M. Beck. Senator George Wharton Pepper represents the senate. Beck's brief charges that McCarl holds that he is not bound even by the decisions of the courts. In 1924, when the house judiciary committee was holding an inquiry on McCarl's activities, Beck told the committee that he held unconstitutional the provisions of the budget act under which the comptroller general's office was created.

THE Constitution, famous United States frigate, is now one hundred thirty-one years old; is rotting at her dock in the Boston navy yard; must be restored for the third time. Congress has authorized her reconstruction, has not appropriated a cent for the work and has empowered Secretary Wilson to accept donations.

The secretary has passed the buck to the 10,000 school children and asks them to contribute 2 1/2 cents each. He puts Rear Admiral de Stengel, commander of the Boston navy yard, in charge of the campaign and in his letter says:

"It is important that we should make clear we are not trying to help out the government in an economy program. The real matter involved is the interest of the people of the United States in an historical reminder of the progress of the nation, and if the people are not willing to support such a proposition they ought not be compelled to do so by appropriations of congress, which in effect takes the money out of their pockets without their consent."

Passing this without comment, one thing is certain: August 10, 1812, the Constitution put the American navy on the sea. In one memorable half hour she made the crack British frigate Guerriere strike her flag over a sinking wreck and a human shambles. Thereafter "Old Ironsides" outmaneuvered, outlasted and outfought the ships of the proud "Mistress of the Seas," though whole squadrons were sent after her. Her dazzling exploits made strong again the fainting soul of the people and carried the new nation on to victory. In 40 engagements "Old Ironsides" has never known defeat. To all the seven seas in 500,000 miles of cruising she carried Old Glory. What!

"... tear her tattered ensign down! Long has it waved on high, And many an eye has danced to see That banner in the sky!"

H. GORDON SELFRIDGE, formerly of Chicago and now a London merchant, told his stockholders the other day: "The high expenses of the league's activities, is now being sent out for consideration. It includes two new federal recommendations, the first being 'support of resolutions permitting United States official representation in the disarmament conference when called by the League of Nations.'"

The second calls for "support of measures designed to make effective the permanent court of international justice and providing for the codification of international law"; also measures designed for the outlawry of war everything in America have forced the cost of manufacture up to a point which makes it impossible to compete with other countries."

A study of wages by the British ministry of labor, just completed in 18 cities, most of them world capitals (Philadelphia here), gives these computations: Average wages in the United States, measured in the food they will buy, are now more than twice as high as those in London, three times greater than in Paris, and nearly five times greater than in Rome, Madrid and Vienna. They are nearly three times greater than in Norway, Sweden, and Holland.

In the meantime our trade statistics show that the sales of our manufactured products are now about half of our exports. They also show that we annually sell the world nearly $3,000,000,000 more of American products than we did 15 years ago; that we sold the world $425,000,000 more last year than the year before, and that our sales are rapidly increasing. In short, we are not only competing but we are winning in the world markets, including some of the commonwealths of the British empire. And we are competing and winning because the American workman does just about three times as much as the British workman in the same industry, thus more than offsetting the difference in wages.

And now comes Sir Charles Higham, once a member of parliament and now an advertising man, to teach us Americans to drop work at four o'clock in the afternoon for tea, after the English style. It will increase our efficiency 35 per cent, don't you know.

JURISDICTION over the patent of face was transferred Friday by executive order of President Coolidge from the Interior department to the Department of Commerce, with the approval of both secretaries. Specific legislation by congress was unnecessary because of the act creating the Commerce department. Secretary Hoover of the Commerce department will demand at an international convention at The Hague, October 8, the removal of certain existing injustices toward American patentees and American manufacturers. If he fails to get it, he will ask for complete revision of the patent laws of the United States, which will bring about their equitable and equal treatment in all countries.

Secretary Hoover has developed the Commerce department into the largest thing of its kind in the world. Efficiency is his passion, and he is its shining exemplar. He has won the co-operation of American business. If he stays in office long enough, he will bring about the co-ordination of all agencies bearing upon the expansion of American business at home and abroad. The latest gossip is that he had a large hand in the appointment of Secretary Jardine of the Agricultural department; that they agree in thinking that the biggest problem in agriculture is marketing, and that the two departments will work together—which has not been the case heretofore.

ARCHDUKE JOHANN SALVATOR of the royal house of Austria, who has been an international mystery ever since his elopement and supposed drowning in 1883, is dead again. This time under the name of Albert Goebel in Vienna. He was in Chicago as Johann Orth in 1901. In 1924 O. N. Orlov was buried as "Johann Salvator" in New York.

President Coolidge has given a recess appointment to Thomas F. Woodlock to be a member of the Interstate Commerce commission, following refusal of the senate to confirm the nomination.

The Missouri legislature has initiated legislation for the death penalty for holdup men; Illinois is considering the payment of $1,000 for bank robbers, dead or alive.

Governor Blaine of Wisconsin will not sign the bill giving bottom lands along the Mississippi to the federal government for a game and fish preserve.

Tennessee, by repealing the law of evolution, attests that nobody can make a monkey of W. J. Bryan. The Soviet government has revoked the oil concession granted in 1923 to the Sinclair Consolidated Oil company on Sakhalin island.

Warns of Overflow
By a simple device the problem of an overflowing ice-box pan is at once solved. All that is necessary, says the Scientific American, is to attach this alarm to any pan and, when the water rises to the level set, the float to which the alarm bell is attached is pushed up to the point where it will start the bell ringing and thus give ample warning. The pan can be emptied and the alarm rewound to act as a reminder on the next occasion.

Auto Pound Profitable
Poundmasters did not disappear with the banishment of the horse and wagon in favor of the automobile and truck. In San Antonio, Texas, there is an automobile poundmaster to look after forgotten and abandoned automobiles found on the city streets. In 1924 the pound made a profit of $2,062 after all expenses were paid, largely through payment made by automobile owners who had parked too long in some restricted streets.

The rapid increase in the use of motor trucks and machines in China during the last ten years, reports to the Department of Commerce show, has resulted in the steady and constantly rising growth of the gasoline trade. The total imports in 1923 amounted to 6,365,000 gallons as compared with the 1914 figures of 823,000 gallons.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

R. D. BAILEY
County Agricultural Agent

Science and the Farmer.

Buy the Kind that Lives.
Like it, (or dislike it, as we wish,) no reader or observer can deny that science is being applied to farming at a rapid rate.

The wise farmer will quickly seize the advantages that science brings him, and will thus avoid mistakes and losses that would swamp the unscientific neighbor.

In these columns mention has been made of treatment to prevent losses through hairless pigs.

Discussion will soon be given of methods to prevent bigness or goitre in calves.

Today we wish to call the attention of our readers, in both town or country, to the method of preventing the great losses that annually occur with little chicks.

Many of these losses are caused by improper feeding of the young chicks, and by feeding too soon after being hatched.

Authorities of distinction tell us not to feed our young chicks before they are 40 to 70 hours old.

Proper methods of feeding from that time are fully given in a bulletin on baby chicks that I secured from the United States Department of Agriculture and of which I mailed a copy to every farmer in the country, and to some townfolks.

However, feed as skillfully as possible, we all know that there is usually too great a loss of young chicks, usually by bowel trouble or diarrhea.

Some of this fatal diarrhea is caused by improper feeding.

Much of it is caused by another form of diarrhea called Bacillary White Diarrhea.

This last disease is incurable so far as any one yet knows.

It does not spend your money on so-called cures for it.

It is caused by a germ.

The young chick gets the germ from the egg. The egg gets the germ from the hen that laid the egg, and here is where science, the much despised paper-collared, book learning comes.

This is where skill, with one well-directed blow, knocks ignorance, mere brute force, and superstition right out of the ring.

Science simply takes blood samples of hens from which it is proposed to get hatching eggs.

Science simply examines these very small samples of blood. If the blood samples act so and so, they show that the hen carries the germ of the deadly, Bacillary White Diarrhea, and none of her eggs are used for hatching, because her chicks, stand a great chance of being infected, which quite surely means certain death for them.

If the blood sample acts so and so, the hen is believed not to carry the deadly diarrhea germs, and her eggs are used for hatching.

There you have it in a nutshell—Buy the kind that lives.

That means, buy day-old chicks of those firms that show a certificate of having tested the flock from which the eggs were saved from which the chicks were hatched.

To buy any other kind is to take the same kind of risk that a man takes when he buys a cow not tested for tuberculosis.

The time is near at hand when it will be impossible to sell to intelligent people cows not tested for tuberculosis, chickens from untreated hens, or seed whose percentage of germination and place of growth are not guaranteed.

Get your Kodak out

Spring is here and all roads lead to pictures; at our counter you will find Kodaks, Kodak Films and Eastman's supplies, the complete line always in stock. We are Your dealer.

If it isn't an Eastman it isn't a Kodak!

Sorenson Bros.

"The Home of Dependable Furniture"

$2.30, Grayling $2.30, Horrigan, $2.40, Roscommon, $2.40.

You can buy it as cheap as the County Agent can. We simply get several to go in on a car, as few can swing a car now.

Get Ten Tons.

Ten tons will cost only $23.00 at Frederic or Grayling, or $24.00 at Roscommon or Horrigan.

Ten tons will lime five acres. With manure that will make a nice little block of corn.

A year from this spring put on the acid phosphates and alfalfa.

From that alfalfa cut a lot of the best hay in the world.

Make this one simple, inexpensive step forward.

Unless we do make simple, easy steps like this forward, why are we not going to be twenty years from now right in the same fix we are in now?

Why run around and around in a small circle, like a mouse chasing its tail in a dish pan?

Choice Seed Corn and Seed Oats.

The County agent knows where to get choice seed corn, suited to this county, with a guaranteed germination of 95 per cent.

Don't plant any whose germination you do not know. It's a waste of time.

The right kind of oat for this region is the Wolverine. It has averaged better than any other kind for this soil.

The county agent knows where to get a lot of certified Wolverine seed oats which can be furnished the farmer at a dollar a bushel delivered at Grayling, sacks extra, if ordered with the cash before the price raises as it always does just before seeding.

Why trip yourself up by using poor seed? Order now.

FREDERIC NEWS.

Mrs. Bell Nickols of Bay City was up to see her mother, Mrs. James Patterson who is still in very poor health.

The Ladies Aid will give a good dinner on Election day, up stairs in the town hall. They will also sell to the highest bidder a wool and silk quilt.

Rev. and Mrs. Hart and children returned from Greenwood in Huron County, the former coming to officiate at the funeral of Mr. Kohn Sunday afternoon. He returned south on the midnight where they are holding a very successful revival meeting.

Mrs. Arthur Wilbur and son came last week as a surprise to his parents Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Forbush. They now reside in Lansing.

Mrs. J. J. Higgins is under the Doctor's care afflicted with Pleuro-Pneumonia. She is slightly some better.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Watson, who have been in camp all winter for Albert Lewis, are going back south to Southern Ohio where he has his old job is awaiting him.

The Lewis Bros. are showing off a brand-new refrigerator which all must admit is real fine.

It will be a real relief when our elections troubles are over. Then the pot will stop calling the kettle black for you never know how mean a person is until they run for office.

The book is a complete guide to the successful raising of chickens and to the keeping of hens for profit.

Get Ready Now.

The farmer who really wants to have a good way to pay his grocery bill this winter will prepare right now to keep a lot of good hens. Good hens mind you and plenty of them! What can he do with 12 to 15 fat old loafers already too old to lay well?

He will plan right now, and prepare to raise a lot of good, suitable feeds.

How often have farmers in this county told me that they were not doing well with hens for they could not afford to buy the feed.

Of course they could not. What have they got the farm for if not to raise food for the family, feed for the cows, feed for the hens?

Raise Them.

Raising this feed should include cut potatoes, cabbage, mangels, corn, buckwheat.

If a farmer has no winter wheat in, let him sow some spring wheat for this emergency, and not fail to sow wheat, on well-prepared, fertile soil, this fall.

Divide Your Troubles.

There are doubtless many in the county who really want to get lime, acid phosphate and alfalfa seed this spring, but who have not quite enough ready money.

There is a way out for them. Let them get lime this spring, put it on the ground where corn will be planted this year, and get the phosphate and alfalfa or sweet clover next year, and this will divide their troubles.

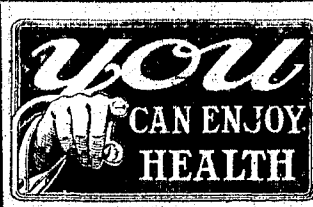

A lot of people have gone in on the deal for alfalfa, lime and fertilizer for this year. I am greatly pleased. A lot more could get lime and put it on corn ground. While not, a fertilizer, as we use the word, yet you will see that the corn will be darker green and more thrifty on account of the lime.

This will give the lime a year to get well mixed with the soil, and to correct soil acidity.

The field will be in ideal shape to disc or drag in phosphate a year from this spring, and to put alfalfa on.

Lime Is Cheap.

Without any profit we can deliver lime, loose in open cars, freight paid at these prices per ton: Frederic,

THE DISCORDANT NOTE.

(E. M. T. Service)

Perhaps the apothem, "Cleanliness is next to Godliness," applies nowhere with greater force and aptness than when used in reference to the city, town, village or enterprise which appears exclusively and fundamentally to the tourist and resorter.

Beauty in some form of nature, whether it be the woods, the lakes, the streams, the bracing air, the charming landscape or the quiet retreat that brings succor from the harsh metallic clangor of commerce, is what attracts the tourist and resorter to a particular enterprise.

The discordant note, the unsightly, unpainted building, the neglected heap of tin cans, the forgotten rubbish pile, the illkept lawn and other affronts to the eye and aesthetic sense of the visitor—brings about a change in the tourist's impression and often turns an otherwise friendly feeling into one of tacit if not active antagonism.

The tourist visits the locality hoping, if not expecting, to find happiness, health and pleasure. When the natural beauty of a locality is marred by a lack of cleanliness, on obvious carelessness, he is disappointed and disgruntled.

Should we not give more attention to the proper care of the material aspect of our town so that the visitor's reaction will be pleasant and profitable to us?

NEW HUNTING CLUB OF 5,000 ACRES.

A group of Chicago people are contemplating the purchase of 5,000 acres of land in Cheboygan and Presque Isle counties to be used as a hunting club, according to a Cheboygan dispatch. The club houses, it is proposed, will be erected at Grace Harbor, over looking "Lake Huron."

Features of the property are a splendid bathing beach and several of the best trout streams in Michigan.

Five thousand folders, advertising the recreational attractions of Roscommon county, are being mailed out from the office of the Herald-News. The folder is very attractive, typographically and otherwise, and should attract tourists and resorters to Roscommon county, the Playground of Michigan.

IS YOUR WORK HARD.

Many Grayling Filks Have Found How to Make Work Easier.

What is so hard as a day's work with an aching back?

Or sharp stabs of pain at every sudden twist or turn?

There is no peace from that dull ache.

No rest from the soreness, lameness and weakness.

Many folks have found relief through Doan's Pills. They are a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Grayling people recommend Doan's.

Mrs. P. Madison, Spruce St., Grayling, says: "I had a lameness in the small of my back and bearing down pains across my kidneys, which made my household burdensome. All this misery taxed my strength and left me weak and worn out. I was nervous and my kidneys acted too often. After using several boxes of Doan's Pills, from Mac & Gidley's Drug store, I was rid of the attack."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Dr. J. Madison had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
